

Dr. Loubna Nouredin, Ed.D., is a leadership scholar, orphans advocate, civil war survivor, and co-founder of Mind Market Consultants, a resource and coaching centre for organizations and startups prioritizing cultures of brilliance over systems of unnecessary change and chaos.

Loubna's expertise as an executive coach and Leadership scholar has positioned her as a value-added resource for leaders in today's unpredictable business environment. Her extensive career of 20+ years has been dedicated to posturing leaders and teams for success through complex change.

As a thought leader in the learning and industry, Loubna has extensive experience coaching teams and groups, from boards to C-Suite executives and their teams. She brings a diverse international experience and is known for her work with Harvard ManageMentor to design customized leadership development programs.

“Culture is intentional. It is the shadow of the leader.

- Dr. Loubna Nouredin

Her passion for leadership and culture development has positioned her training programs at the Top 10 by Training Magazine, the Association for Talent Development, and American Healthcare Association. She has provided sensitivity and empathy training for leaders and teams with proven outcomes. She partners with leaders to problem solve, get to the root cause, and identify solutions that are practical, measurable, and sustainable.

Global Expertise

- HealthCare
- Higher Education
- Logistics
- Research
- Hotels
- Government
- Pharmaceutical
- Consulting
- Not-for-Profit

Education/Certifications

- Doctor in Organizational Leadership and Change
- Professional Certified Coach (PCC)
- Certified Master Practitioner in NLP
- Certified Change Acceleration Facilitator
- Certified Hogan Leadership Coach
- Certified Everything DiSC Facilitator
- Korn Ferry Performance Assessment
- Certified Conscious Business Coach

